How to Register for a FT account

- Go to https://www.ft.com/
- Select Sign In.
- Enter your City email address and select Next.

- Your City email address will already be in the Email address box.
- Select SSO Sign in.
Enter your City username and password e.g. abc123

Complete the registration form. Make sure you use your City email address. Accept the terms and conditions and select Continue.

You will receive an email at your City University account from the FT. To complete setting up your account, you need to set up a password.

Select the Set a password link in the email.

Create your password and select Submit.

You are now able to access FT.com using single sign-on. This means you can sign in to your FT account while logged in to your City, University of London user account and you do not have to use a FT password to sign in each time.