Sharing your search results from Ovid Online

Ovid Online allows you to share both your Search History and references from searches you perform.

From your list of results tick the references you wish to share and select the Email option.

A new window will open.

You can select how much detail you wish to share e.g. just citations or citations and abstracts.

You can include your Search History in the email.